

Missouri Department of Higher Education

Higher Education Headlines

Sept. 22, 2016

Note: A link will no longer provide access to some news stories. Those stories appear in their entirety at the end of this document, as indicated.

Our view: Success in numbers, Sept. 20

Search committee leaders say little after second round of University of Missouri president interviews, Sept. 20

Missouri governor makes fiscally responsible, albeit painful, budget cuts, Sept. 20

Johnson County Community College enters credit transfer agreement with Missouri school, Sept. 19

MSU first generation students join together, Sept. 18

Higher ed task force, Sept. 16

Three reasons to applaud colleges, Sept. 16

Northwest opens five professional schools, Sept. 16

Nixon cuts $59 M in funding after tax-break veto override, Sept. 15

Nixon's $59M in budget cuts include $1.9M for Missouri State, Sept. 15

Lawmakers look at role of University of Missouri in new degree programs, Sept. 14

Grants to expand nursing education awarded to 8 colleges and universities, Sept. 13

State audit shines light on rising costs at Southeast, other public universities, Sept. 11

Enrollments surge at historically black colleges amid rise in racial tensions, Sept. 11

Andrews honored for work on higher education, Sept. 9

Editorial: As universities raise fees, higher education could slip out of reach, Sept. 9

ITT Tech closes KC, Overland Park and other campuses, idling 8,000, Sept. 6

ITT Tech shuts all campuses after federal aid sanctions, Sept. 6

Higher education should be free, Sept. 6

Expansion of career, technical education partnerships needed, experts say, Sept. 6

Responding to college-cost audit, Nixon touts affordability, Sept. 5

Despite enrollment dip, UMSL administrators are optimistic about balancing the budget, Sept. 1

Our View: MSSU leads the way, Aug. 31