School choice and counseling students about college fit

Ideally students should arrive at the computer lab during the admissions application activity with a list of colleges they are interested in attending. The "college fit" worksheet is an ideal tool for students to research and record information about the schools in which they may be interested. Postsecondary school characteristics students should consider include:

Location. In state or out of state; proximity to home and travel expenses necessary to visit home. Students with questions about their state residency may want to review information on the Missouri Department of Higher Education's website at http://www.dhe.mo.gov/ policies/student-residency.php.

Size. Would the student be interested in the experience of a large university? Or would the student benefit from a smaller school where it might be easier to develop connections with teachers and school staff? Information about a school's enrollment as well as its student-to-faculty ratio should be available on its website.

Available majors and programs and admissions

selectivity. Is the student interested in obtaining an associate or bachelor's degree? For students who want to obtain a bachelor's degree, a community college may still be the place to begin. Consideration should be made according to transferability of credits and courses as well as cost. Students qualifying for A+ scholarships may or may not find the community college route to be the least expensive. Work with both two- and four-year schools to help students find the best fit for their future. Help students understand the college transfer process for continuing their education beyond an associate degree. Transferability of credits can be researched using the Missouri Department of Higher Education's transfer course library (http://dhe.mo.gov/CoreTransfer. php). The department offers an online college, degree and program search tool (http://collegesearch. mo.gov/) that can be helpful in determining the types of programs Missouri schools offer. Additional information about school type, admissions selectivity and other factors can be found at http://www.dhe.mo.gov/ppc/ exploringmyoptions.php.

Services for first-generation students or at-risk populations. Students should be aware of campus offerings such as summer bridge programs, tutoring services, availability of emergency funds for needy students, multi-cultural student clubs and organizations, on-campus health services, and dormitories that are open during the holidays.

Total cost, net price and other data. Net price is the difference between the "sticker" price (full cost) to attend college, minus any grants and scholarships. By federal law, each institution is required to provide a version of the Net Price Calculator on its website. To find out the "net price" for a specific college or university, check out www.collegecost.ed.gov/ netpricecenter.aspx. Schools will also typically provide information such as their first-to-second year retention rates, the numbers and percentages of students enrolled by various demographic categories, graduation rates, average student loan debt of its graduates, and more. The U.S. Department of Education's College Affordability and Transparency Center provides a College Scorecard to help students and families better understand the affordability and outcomes associated with particular postsecondary schools. For more information, visit www.collegecost. ed.gov/scorecard.

Admission fees

Most colleges require an application fee when a student submits an application to their school. Many colleges will require a credit card, pre-paid credit card, debit card or electronic check information in order to submit an application online. Students who are unable to provide payment information during Apply Missouri, can save an application and submit it later when they can provide a payment method.

To help students prepare for the online admissions process use the list of Missouri's two- and four-year schools, which includes their current application fees.

College application fee waivers

Applying for college can be expensive for any student. Some postsecondary institutions do not charge admissions fees (see the list of Missouri's two- and four-year schools and their fees). Application fees may prohibit some families, especially those with a financial burden or hardship, from applying to college. It is important to let students and parents know that they may be eligible for waivers of these fees.

There are three types of fee waivers typically accepted by colleges and universities, but it is important to note that not all colleges and universities will accept fee waivers. For further information about fee waivers, students should speak directly with their high school counselor to determine which colleges will accept fee waivers.

1. National Association for College Admission Counseling (NACAC). The NACAC Request for Admission Application Fee Waiver Form is for traditional high school students who meet NACAC's requirements. Students should use this form to apply to the schools they are most interested in attending (up to four schools). Not all schools will accept the NACAC fee waiver form.

- ACT. Many colleges and universities will consider waiving or deferring the admission application fee for students who have been granted an ACT Fee Waiver. To facilitate consideration of such requests, ACT has provided a request form in the 2014–15 ACT User Handbook for Educators (page 12) for high school counselors to photocopy and complete for students. Individual institutions are not obligated to waive or defer their admission application fees for any specific applicants.
- 3. College Board. The College Board fee waivers cover more than just SAT testing fees. Students who are eligible for fee waivers can also receive up to four Requests for Waiver of College Application Fee forms free or at a reduced price. For more information about the SAT and available resources view the 2014–16 Advising and Admission Handbook.

The "student admissions application" worksheet includes spaces to record the appropriate information for fees and waivers.

U.S. Department of Education school code lists

Federal school codes may be found at http://ifap. ed.gov/ifap/fedSchoolCodeList.jsp. School codes are issued by the U.S. Department of Education at the time the school is approved to participate in any of the federal financial aid programs, such as the Pell Grant or student loans. The school code is useful at the time of applying for admissions and is required when the student submits the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, or FAFSA, after Jan. 1.

Communicating with parents

To make sure your students are fully prepared to submit admissions applications during your Apply Missouri activities, it is important to communicate with parents of seniors. In some cases, students may need to obtain a parent's credit card to take care of any required admissions fees. It is important that parents are aware of the activities you are planning and their needed support and encouragement. For some activities, it may be appropriate to invite parents to participate along with their student. Additionally, parents may be helpful to students in reviewing potential colleges and determining what schools are a good fit for individual circumstances and preferences.

Sample letter to students/families

Dear students and families,

This fall,______ High School will be participating in Apply Missouri 2015, sponsored by the Missouri Department of Higher Education. All seniors expecting to graduate in 2016 will have an opportunity to submit an application for admission to one or more colleges or universities, if they have not already done so. The event will be held _______ (date or dates of event).

The purpose of Apply Missouri 2015 is to provide students with information about higher education and the college application process. Information about completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) also will be available during the event.

Prior to the event, seniors will be encouraged to fill out a "college fit" worksheet to help them determine what type of higher education might be the best choice for them. Having the completed worksheet available at the Apply Missouri event will allow students to quickly and easily complete college applications. We anticipate that students and their families will work together to complete the worksheet.

Please be aware most colleges require a fee when an application is submitted. Many colleges will require some form of electronic payment with an online application.

Families are welcome to visit ______ High School to help their son or daughter during the application process. Family members also can volunteer to assist with the event, signing in students, helping students with the completion of college applications or distributing information about financial aid opportunities.

If you have any questions about Apply Missouri 2015 or you would like to volunteer during the event, please contact ______ (name, phone number and/or email address). Thank you in advance for supporting this exciting program to help students learn more about the higher education opportunities available to them.

Sincerely,
